The first system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff is a single treble clef with a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). It contains a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, some beamed together, and a few rests. The middle and bottom staves are grouped by a brace on the left, indicating a piano accompaniment. The middle staff is a treble clef, and the bottom staff is a bass clef, both with a key signature of two sharps. They contain chords and moving lines, with some notes marked with 'z' (likely for 'zang' or 'zang' in a specific context).

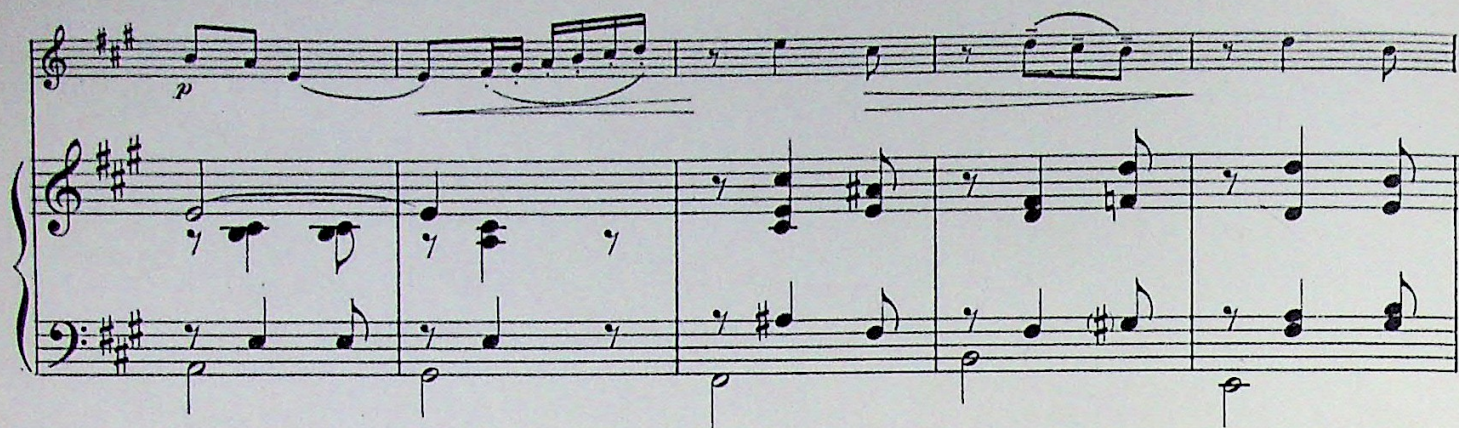

The second system of musical notation continues the piece. It features the same three-staff structure. The top staff has a melodic line with various note values and rests. The piano accompaniment in the middle and bottom staves provides harmonic support with chords and moving lines. The notation includes various musical symbols such as beams, slurs, and dynamic markings.

The third system of musical notation shows further development of the musical themes. The top staff's melody includes a 'cresc.' (crescendo) marking. The piano accompaniment in the middle and bottom staves features more complex chordal structures and rhythmic patterns. The notation is detailed, with many notes and rests clearly visible.

The fourth system of musical notation concludes the page. It features a 'dim.' (diminuendo) marking in the top staff. The piano accompaniment in the middle and bottom staves continues with its harmonic and rhythmic patterns. The notation includes various musical symbols such as beams, slurs, and dynamic markings.

The first system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff is a single treble clef staff in A major (two sharps) with a piano (p) dynamic marking. It contains a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, some beamed together, and rests. The middle and bottom staves are grand staff notation (treble and bass clefs) with a key signature of two sharps. They provide harmonic accompaniment with chords and moving lines.

The second system continues the musical piece with three staves. The top staff features a melodic line with various note values and rests. The grand staff below provides accompaniment with chords and moving lines in both hands.

The third system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff has a melodic line with some rests. The grand staff below provides accompaniment with chords and moving lines in both hands.

The fourth system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff has a melodic line with a final note. The grand staff below provides accompaniment with chords and moving lines in both hands.

The first system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff is a single melodic line in treble clef. The bottom two staves are a grand staff (treble and bass clefs) with a piano (p) dynamic marking. The music is in 2/4 time and features a key signature of one sharp (F#).

The second system of musical notation continues the piece with three staves. The piano part in the grand staff features more complex chordal textures and moving bass lines.

The third system of musical notation includes a tempo change. The instruction poco rit. (poco ritardando) appears above the piano staff. The music concludes this system with a key signature change to two sharps (F# and C#).

The fourth system of musical notation begins with the instruction a tempo above the piano staff, indicating a return to the original tempo. The system concludes with five measures of music in the two-sharp key signature.

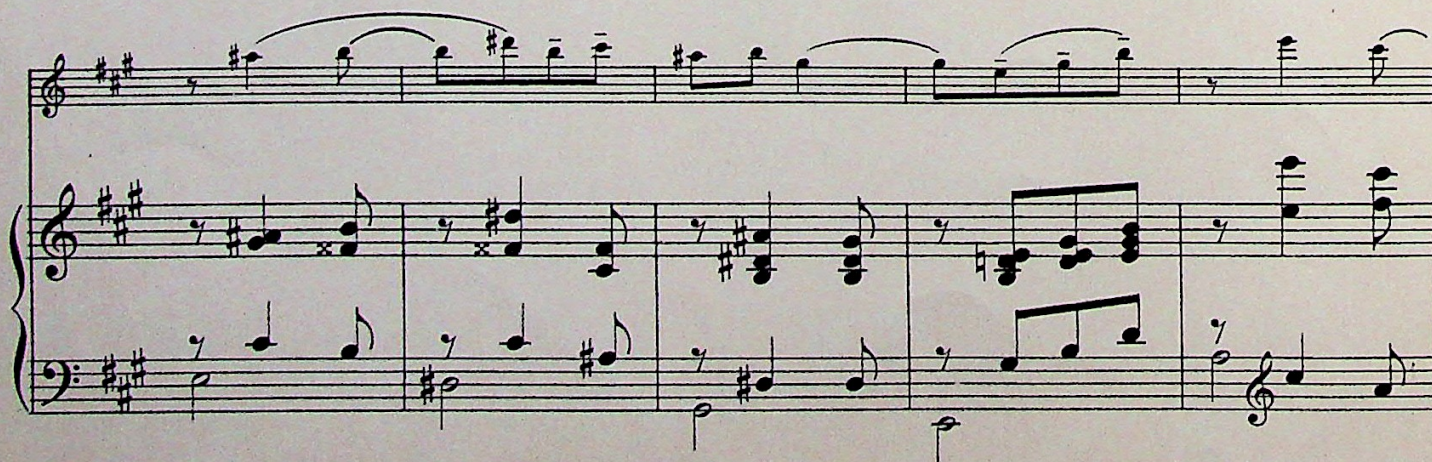

The first system of musical notation consists of three staves. The top staff is a single treble clef with a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). It contains a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, some beamed together, and a final measure with a half note. The middle and bottom staves are grouped by a brace on the left, indicating a piano accompaniment. The middle staff is a treble clef, and the bottom staff is a bass clef, both with a key signature of two sharps. They contain harmonic support for the melody, with the bass line often playing sustained notes or simple rhythmic patterns.

The second system of musical notation continues the piece. The top staff features a melodic line with a half note marked with a breath mark (a small 'h' in a circle). The piano accompaniment in the middle and bottom staves continues with harmonic support, including some chords and moving lines in both hands.

The third system of musical notation shows the continuation of the melody and accompaniment. The top staff has a melodic line with a half note. The piano accompaniment in the middle and bottom staves provides harmonic support, with the bass line showing some more active movement in the later measures.

The fourth system of musical notation is the final system on the page. The top staff concludes the melodic line. The piano accompaniment in the middle and bottom staves provides harmonic support, ending with a final chord in the right hand and a sustained note in the left hand.

The musical score is written for piano and voice. It is in the key of A major (three sharps: F#, C#, G#) and 4/4 time. The score is organized into five systems of staves.

- System 1: Features a vocal line on a single staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves. The vocal line begins with a half note A5, followed by quarter notes G5, F#5, and E5, then a half note D5. The piano accompaniment consists of chords in the right hand and single notes in the left hand.
- System 2: Continues the piano accompaniment from the first system.
- System 3: Continues the piano accompaniment from the second system.
- System 4: Includes a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line has a half note A5, followed by quarter notes G5, F#5, and E5, then a half note D5. The piano accompaniment continues with chords and single notes.
- System 5: Concludes the piece. It includes a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The tempo markings rit. molto and a tempo are indicated. The system ends with a pizz. (pizzicato) instruction.
